Purpose of Report

1. To ask the Council to agree the polling districts that lie outside the council wards for the elections and Referendums in 2016.

3. The situation of polling stations is the sole responsibility of the Returning Officer within the polling districts but Council has to agree those polling districts outside the council ward.

Background

5. A polling places review was carried out in 2014 and its recommendations were agreed by Council on 26 March 2014.
6. Council is asked to agree the polling stations lying outside the polling districts. These polling stations are familiar to the electorate concerned with the exception of those moving to East Court from Chequermead East Grinstead which is not available for elections in 2016 due to structural work.
7. Due to parking issues at the Birch Hotel we are moving HAB (Haywards Heath Franklands) to Haywards Heath Baptist Church in that ward. JB at Bolney has moved from Bolney Village Chapel to the newly opened Rawson Hall. EC at Handcross has moved from the Parish Hall to Handcross Primary School.

Definitions

8. A polling district is a geographical area created by the sub-division of a local authority into smaller parts. A UK Parliamentary constituency is made up of a number of polling districts, whilst an un-warded parish is normally comprised of a single polling district. Wards of Mid Sussex District Council are comprised of between one and six polling districts, depending on the parish arrangements below them. In total there are 65 polling districts within the district.
9. A polling place is a defined area in which polling station(s) for the polling district can be allocated by the Retuning Officer. It can be as small as a single building, or cover a wider area allowing for the relocation of a polling station should the usual facilities become unavailable. Some authorities define the entire polling district as a polling place to allow for maximum flexibility in this matter.
10. A polling station is the room or area of the polling place in which voting is conducted.

Roles and Responsibilities

11. The Local Authority.

Every relevant local authority in Great Britain is responsible for dividing its area into polling districts and designating polling places for each polling district. The authority must review these arrangements at least once every four years and determine whether amendments are required as a result.

12. The Electoral Registration Officer.

If any amendments to polling districts are made by the local authority the Electoral Registration Officer must ensure that the Register of Electors is amended accordingly and publish a notice to that effect.

Parliamentary Constituency Boundary Review

13. The Boundary Commission plans to begin a review of parliamentary boundaries in 2016.

Policy Context.

14. Electoral Services completed a polling places review in 2014 in accordance with the statutory requirements.

Other Options Considered

15. It has not been possible to identify suitable polling stations in all the polling districts.

Financial Implications

16. A reduction in the number of polling stations will result in a decrease in the costs of venue hire and Returning Officer staff. However this is likely to be partially offset by an increase in the number of postal voters in some polling districts, increasing postage and processing costs. The proposals in this report do not reduce the number of polling stations.

Equality and Customer Service Implications

17. All polling stations are checked for disabled access.

Background Papers
