Hassocks Parish Council	250	Hand built bonfire and bugler player	The grant was used to cover the cost of insurance and the purchase of LED lights.	The event allowed the community to come together in Remembrance and to participate in a national Remembrance project.	The grant was to assist with the organisation of a Community Remembrance event and therefore it enabled the residents of Hassocks, Keymer and Clayton to participate in such an event. There were in the region of 200 attendees.	None
Lindfield Parish Council	250	Remembrance Beacon	The grant was used towards the purchase of a gas fuelled 'Battles over Beacon' from Bullfinch Gas Equipment which costs £360 plus VAT.	On the 11th November lighting of a Remembrance Beacon took place on Lindfield Common as part of the Battles Over national remembrance events. The event was organised and run by Lindfield Parish Council, and was attended by the Lindfield Branch of the Royal British Legion and members of the public. The event gave members of the public an opportunity to pay their respects to those who perished in the First World War.	The event was open to the public to attend. We believe approximately 200 individuals attended.	In total the event cost £560. Taking off the £250 MSDC grant towards the beacon left a balance of £310. The remaining balance was paid by Lindfield Parish Council.

West Hoathly Parish Council	250	Remembrance event in partnership with the Royal British Legion	Money was not required for the insurance. The local blacksmith agreed to make the beacon post and also to provide a new brazier. It was proposed by the British Legion and agreed by the Parish Council that the beacon be made a permanent structure within Finche Field - the highest point of the parish.	Local residents now have a permanent beacon that acts as a permanent Remembrance and can be used to celebrate other national events in the future.	The parish has a population of 2,000	The Parish Council funded the planning application required to make this a permanent structure and the local Royal British Legion paid the rest of the cost for the beacon.

Family Support Work	1,728	Sessional playworker for drop-in sessions for vulnerable families	We have incurred some difficulties in securing a dedicated sessional playworker to support us at FSW. The hours we are offering are very low e.g. 4 hours a week and we are struggling to recruit an individual who seeks employment with these number of hours. We have been fortunate that we have been able to utilise our existing Sessional playworker – John Childs. John has supported the drop-in sessions, holiday sessions, after-school clubs and Christmas Parties run by Caroline Steer, our practitioner, in Mid Sussex. He also supported our trip to Dalesdown in May 2019 where we took 12 families from Haywards Heath and Cuckfield away for a respite weekend. We simply	John, our sessional playworker is a key part of the team at FSW. Having John support the holiday sessions, after-school club and Dalesdown respite break has enabled FSW to offer a more flexible and responsive service to struggling families in Mid-Sussex who are under multiple pressures. The children and families that we support have received extra practical help from John to see them through tough times and increase their health and well being e.g. Children, whose parents are unable to take them out, were able to go to the park and other play activities, relieving stress for them and their parents, those in rural areas and struggling with transport were able to access support groups and counselling, urgent food parcels were able to be delivered to needy families.	23 families and 63 children and young people in total.	We struggle to secure funding for this aspect of our work. The area of Mid Sussex is perceived as being relatively wealthy when in fact we work with extremely vulnerable families in this area. We secured £500 from Haywards Heath Council towards our Lego therapy sessions, held at Saltworks Cafe. We also secured £1,560 from the Wellesley Charitable Foundation towards this element of our work.

			would not have been able to take these families away on an essential respite break without his support. The work of our sessional playworker has freed Caroline up to offer a more responsive service to her families and be more available to them. We would like to request the costs of £679.50 for John, our playworker against the grant of £1,728.	The positive playwork activities that John has run including the after school club, Carnival Shield workshops has helped young people from marginalised communities, who are lacking confidence, have low educational attainment and are disengaged from education to build their resilience, improve their self-esteem and reach their potential. John acts as a father figure for many young people who lack positive male role models in their lives. 'Having John support us has been a lifesaver for myself and my sons. Especially my son, Josh who has special needs and who has thrived under his care. Before we met John, we were in a dark place. John was struggling after being abused by both his mother's partners. Since meeting John, Josh has been more trusting and opening up. Josh finds it helpful to have someone to talk to.'

Pericles Theatre Company Hoathly Hill Trust Ltd	1,000	Theatre performances by people with learning disabilities	For core activities around the adaptation, rehearsals and performances of the play, namely: Invoice Artistic Director: V. Nedelcu £ 1,560 Invoice for composing music: D. Brett £ 440 Total £ 2,000	When we started the project we were still rehearsing in Sharpthorne in the Village hall. Later on we started rehearsing in Arc Hall, which is part of the Hoathly Hill Community, West Hoathly. Of the 9 performances 3 were in Arc Hall. This enhances the feeling of community not only for the Hoathly Hill Community, but also for the wider community in West Hoathly and Sharpthorne and surroundings.	4 of the 5 actors with learning disabilities are residents of Mid Sussex. A number of participants, not directly involved on stage, are also residents of Mid Sussex. The actors with learning disabilities are assisted by our Artistic Director,	We applied for an additional total of £15,500 (£ 7,500 first round and £ 8,000 second round) for funding. We received £ 2,500 from Hermes Trust. We received a total of £ 345.91 as donations. We received a total of £ 2,516.50 for ticket sales and as lump sums from venues for our performances.

				The audience members of all ages were mostly from the Community or the wider community and very much enjoyed the play, which is reflected in their positive feedback (see also attachment to the email to Regina Choudhury). The use of Arc Hall for our rehearsals and performances attracts other users from the Community and the wider community. Audience members see the Hall and want to start using it for their own activities. In this way a new relationship with the Community members started to develop, creating the foundations for a new socially aware venue in the West Hoathly/Sharpthorne community. The performances were the first grant funded performances of The Theatre Company in Arc Hall, which has helped greatly with laying the foundation of a new initiative and development of The Theatre Company in promoting and furthering its aims and objectives, which I observed over the last months. Since the Theatre Company is based in West Hoathly, performances outside the Mid Sussex District (most of them close to the border) also attracted audience members from the Community and wider community.	professional actors, including David Brett, who is also an actor as well as a composer and musical director, as well as co-workers. The participants are assisted by the workshop leaders and co-workers. Apart from the Artistic Director all are volunteers and there number varies a bit, during the last three performances there were 8 volunteers assisting, namely a musician, a musician/actor, 5 actors and a co-worker.

				The participants, not directly involved on stage, felt part of the whole process without needing to perform on stage. They felt proud that they could contribute in this way with their own special gifts. The actors with learning disabilities could be on stage in a high quality play alongside with professional actors, acting out the story as it is narrated, without having to read or memorize endless amounts of lines. During the performances the actors with learning disabilities could show their special gifts on stage and in this way emitted a great warmth towards the audience, showing freedom and courage, they were in charge. So this project offered people with learning disabilities a great time as well as a social connection among equals and a valuable work experience in a professional setting. There was a visible growth of confidence during the course of the project, after each performance the actors with learning disabilities felt more in charge and connected more easily with the audience. The adults with learning disabilities felt less lonely, whether they contributed on and/or off stage. Social connections grew during the course of the project. A special

				friendship arose out of it. See Jasmine's story as well as photos of a performance in Arc Hall in and attached to the email to Regina Choudhury. Also the audience members were visibly moved by the performances of the actors with learning disabilities and thus lessening the common misconception about 'disability', supposedly meaning 'less' or 'unable'. See also the feedback attached to the email.
St Peter &amp; St James Hospice	2,569	Air conditioning unit	One Panasonic wall mounted heat pump inverter unit for our Sunflower Room and one LG ceiling suspended heat pump inverter unit for Beacon View were purchased to provide these rooms with air conditioning. The air conditioning units were installed just before the very hot weather, so it was good timing. It meant our patients; their families and our staff were able to continue doing activities and meeting when the temperatures were soaring.	It meant that our Beacon View patients and staff were able to continue doing activities and meeting when the temperatures were soaring. It made a huge difference especially to our patients who were already suffering with high temperatures due to their illnesses. They were able to enjoy attending the Wellbeing activities that we offer in Beacon View and the Sunflower Room, these can provide a lifeline for patients to make new friends and receive peer support. "I enjoy all the activities at Beacon View and am very grateful to everyone that gives their time to support us" 'Opened up a mass of things that I would not have done at home and so helpful talking to different people where we are all suffering one way or another and also being a listening ear to others.'	Each month Beacon View is used by an average of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 30 patients (note patient numbers are dictated by a complex scoring process based on each individual patient's needs and the ratio of staff to patients, so if someone has a high needs score, that will reduce the overall number of people who attend a specific day, hence numbers do vary considerably from month to month).</li> <li>• 12 carers</li> <li>• 50 bereaved people.</li> </ul>	We also received £750 from Haywards Heath Town Centre towards the Air Conditioning Units.

				When asked what benefits and difference the patients feel they've received a few Wellbeing Centre visitors said:-  'A good chance to speak with other people and get involved in interesting activities. Transport makes this really accessible.'  'A lot of difference, new friends, new activities, something to look forward to every week.'  'A huge difference in my life. I so look forward to [the wellbeing centre].'  One fantastic feature of these two air conditionings units is that they can also be used to heat the rooms so consequently have the additional benefit of being used in the winter months to heat the space. Hence they are improving the experience of the patients and staff all year round.  Patients can access physiotherapy, aromatherapy, gentle exercise classes, breathing and meditation sessions as well as creative classes like art, music and writing. The activities that require a more private space are done in the Sunflower Room which would become incredibly stuffy in the summer, the windows would have to be opened which then attracted in a lot of insects and bees which was not great for patients trying to do yoga or having a one on one counselling session.	One quote from a Beacon View user 'Volunteers and staff are great! It's got me out of the house, meeting new people, learning new activities. A great support and something to look forward to every week.' 710 such people visit Beacon View each year. Of these approximately 70% of these people are from the Mid Sussex district.

West Sussex Mediation Service	3,000	Free mediation service for Mid Sussex residents	We used the grant for the following:          To pay for the hiring of suitable meeting rooms to carry out our mediation sessions. We seek out venues that are near to where our clients live.          To cover the travel expenses of our volunteer mediators and ancillary costs, such as parking.          To cover the admin costs relating to casework - stationery, postage, copying, staff, insurance and training.          Also for publicity materials to share with clients and promote further use of our services across Mid Sussex.          All our mediators are volunteers. We utilised 10 local mediators in Mid Sussex. Help was given by one volunteer (Haywards Heath) in the form of Admin/lt support, and one other (Ditchling) for fundraising.	By resolving disputes we have improved the health and wellbeing of those in conflict. The community have benefited, as such disputes do widen to extended families and the wider community.          We have good evidence through verbal feedback and via written feedback questionnaires that we have reduced incidents of antisocial behaviour, low scale crime and reduced the fear of crime. We have relieved the burden of repeated calls/complaints to authorities. This saves the Police, Council and Court system time and money.          We address issues such as racism, sexism, homophobia and ageism. This leads to great community cohesion.	We have serviced cases in 13 towns and parishes across Mid Sussex in the grant period. We have assisted 220 people directly affected and influenced by our work. The number is much larger for those indirectly benefiting. We also assisted many clients by directing them to other support services.	Grant from the Sussex Police &amp; Crime Commissioner - £18k (countywide service)          Housing Association Grants (housing stock in Mid Sussex) - various.          Town/Parish Council Discretionary Grants (much lower than usual this year) - £200          In-house fundraising - £350          Paid for services (proportion) - £1,000
